- (a) Successful applicants are required to play in the selection trial organised by the Central Coast Roosters each year to be eligible for selection in Central Coast Roosters Representative teams. Players may also be selected through Central Coast DJRL competition rounds.
- (b) A player may seek and be granted exemption from the trials if he is injured or ill but a Doctors Certificate will be required and he must still attend the trial unless his Doctor states in the certificate he is too unwell to do so.
- (c) A player may seek exemption from the trials on the basis of a family crisis. This must be in writing to the Central Coast Roosters Operations Manager and a decision on the exemption will be made by the Central Coast Roosters Operation Manager.
- (d) A player may seek exemption from the trials and if he is playing a non-conflicting sport on the day.
- (e) The said player acknowledges that Central Coast Roosters has strongly recommended I undertake personal health insurance with the highest available medical benefits scheme cover.
